

BIOGRAPHY

WILLIAM T. (TOM) INGRAM - Director, Readiness Directorate, Integrated Materiel Management Center, HQ, US Army Aviation and Missile Command.

Serves as the top technical authority for logistic readiness with responsibility for the executive level planning, direction, and management of worldwide Logistic Assistance, New Equipment Training, Materiel Fielding, Analysis and Sustainment programs and customer support for Army aviation and missile systems and associated equipment.

TOTAL FED SVC: 31 Years as a Department of Army Civilian
29 Years as an Army Ordnance Officer (3 years Active, 26 years Reserves) - Retired from USAR as a Lieutenant Colonel on 1 Aug 98.

EDUCATION: BA, Economics, University of California, Davis, CA
AMC Supply Management Intern, AMC Intern Training Center
Personnel Management for Executives, OPM
Logistic Management Development Course, ALMC
US Army Engineer OCS, Fort Belvoir, VA
Ordnance Officer's Advanced Course, APG, MD
Command and General Staff College, USAR

KEY ASSIGNMENTS: GM-15 Director, Readiness Directorate, IMMC, USAMCOM
GM-15 Director, Readiness Directorate, USAMICOM
GM-15 Deputy Director, Readiness Directorate, USAMICOM
GM-14 Chief, Readiness Analysis Division, USAMICOM

AWARDS: Commandant's List (Command and General Staff College)
Distinguished Graduate (US Army Intern Training Center)
Commandant's List (ILS Management Techniques)
Meritorious Service Medal
Army Commendation Medal (w/3OLC)
Exceptional Performance Awards (16)
Sustained Superior Performance Awards (5)
Meritorious Civilian Service Award
2004 Ernest A. Young Logistics Achievement Award
Nominated for the Ten Outstanding AMC Personnel of the Year Award for 2004